

MEDACT-APHRODITE PROJECT. A COLLABORATION OF CYPRUS AND GREECE FOR ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY AND LEGISLATION

N. GEORGIADES*, C. CARTALIS, and M. PROEDROU*

Environmental Service, Ministry of Agriculture, Natural Resources and Environment, Nicosia, Cyprus*

Department of Applied Physics, Division of Physics, University of Athens, Panepistimioupolis, Build. Phys.-V, GR 15784, Athens, Greece*

ABSTRACT

The accession process of Cyprus to the European Union, necessitates the adjustment of the Cypriot environmental policy and legislation to that of European Union. In this framework, the project MEDACT-APHRODITE was implemented (LIFE Programme), through a number of actions: Thematic Cooperation Groups, Exchange of Personnel, Dissemination Actions. The implementation methodology of the project and its final results are described in this paper.